This 1895 play revolves around blackmail and political corruption. The theme of public and private honor runs throughout the work. The play opens at a fashionable dinner party in London. Several guests are involved in a plot to build a canal through Argentina. Blackmail, past love interests, and deceit are rampant. Surprisingly there just may be a happy ending after all.

Oscar Wilde就是优雅版吐槽神嘛。

王尔德的作品总是带有鲜明的个人印记，他的语言总是精巧，繁复，讽刺。人物的设置总是有那么一个玩世不恭的富家子，一个相对纯洁正直的富家子的最好的哥们儿，纯情少女之类的。个人觉得不足之处是对主角之一Mrs Cheveley之后的去向结局交代不明，Lord Goring 和 Mable的感情发展有点略显唐突。

结局太完美，比童话还童话了。。

To love oneself is the beginning of a lifelong romance. Nobody is incapable of doing a foolish thing. Nobody is incapable of doing a wrong thing. It is love, and not German philosophy, that is the true explanation of this world. Sooner or later in political life one has to compromise. Every one does.

I've read a lot about Oscar Wilde, but never read his plays. His play was about his life, at least, part of his life. Unfortunately, Wilde, a famous dandy and a genius writer, died of poverty. Ironically, the contemporary Bernard Shaw, advocate of socialism, people's writer, was as rich as a king.

跳着读完的这本书，有些章节不光折磨男主还折磨我。人确实要为自己的过去负责，但更重要的是现在和未来。
