The most effective way to deal with prostitution has always been hotly debated by governments and women's movements alike. Feminists want it abolished or regulated as sex work; governments have to safeguard public health and order. This book shows how women's movements in Western Europe, North America and Australia have affected politics on prostitution and trafficking of women since the 1970s, asking what made them successful in some countries but a failure in others. It also assesses whether government institutions to advance the status of women - so-called women's policy agencies - have played a key role in achieving policy outcomes favourable to movement demands. Written by an international team of experts and based on original sources, all chapters follow the same framework to ensure comparability. The final chapter offers an overall comparison identifying what makes women's movements successful and women's agencies effective, presenting the case for 'state feminism'.

评论

12个国家卖淫政策的讨论比较，主要看了头尾两章，研究问题是妇女运动是否有助于政策向女性倾斜(can state be a feminist)，结论比较乱没看懂，data比analysis有价值，以色列和加拿大曾经有过关于青少年卖淫的讨论，后者跟HK的情况有些相似
