The Continental Ethics Reader is the first comprehensive anthology of classic writings on ethics and moral philosophy from the major figures in Continental thought. The carefully selected readings are divided into five sections Phenomenology and Hermeneutics, Existentialism, Critical Theory, Postmodernism, Psychoanalysis and

Feminism. All of the authors and their writings are introduced and place in philoosphical context by the editors. The Continental Ethics Reader is an ideal point of entry to the most pressing issues and most important thinkers of the Continental tradition, and provides a thorough and much needed introduction to the field. G.W.F Hegel, Edmund Husserl, Henri Bergson, Max Scheler, Martin Heidegger, Hans-Georg Gadamer, Emmauel Levinas, Paul Ricoeur, Soren Kierkegaard, Friedrich Nietzsche, Martin Buber, Karl Jaspers, Jean-P
