从哲学老师那捡来的，薄薄一本很精彩

Existence precedes essence. | Men are defined by their actions. | There's no such thing as human nature.

One among the many pieces of works that exemplified the well-intended yet futile revolt against German idealism. Should the meaning of life and the value of man indeed consist in nothing other than what he makes of himself, what would be the meaning of any kinds of making? Free and unbridled as life is, it holds against nothing and thus, is nothing.

在庞然的幻象倒下后，人是她所行动的东西。质疑：懂的都懂。萨特：连马克思都在努力。
