Set up like a traditional ledger, The Seller Ledger allows sellers to keep track of fees, profits, feedback, addresses, tracking information, shipping and handling costs and much more all in one place. Item information about your sales and auctions is only kept on eBay for 90 days so millions of sellers have found the value of keeping a hard copy of their records to minimize mistakes and for running a more efficient business in the online marketplace. Whether you are a Power Seller or just someone looking to sell enough to clean out their attic, the value of organizing all your eBay information in one place is immeasurable. Specifically designed for the online marketplace, it also contains the most recent fees for both eBay and PayPal on a handy "cheat sheet" while including ways to keep track of Non-Paying bidder alerts, returns, and other eBay procedures. With room for over 1,500 auctions!
