The premier title in a new player series, this helpful guide details the lead guitar styles of three legendary musicians - Eric Clapton, Jeff Beck, and Jimmy Page. Written by guitar expert Jesse Gress, this volume contains licks that have been constructed after Careful study of dozens of the artists' greatest live performances. The Guitar Lick Factory series takes guitarists inside the music they want to play. Focusing on a particular guitar hero or style, each Lick Factory title presents hundreds of ready-to-play licks that players can take to their next gig. Readers also learn how to extract dozens of rhythmic and melodic variations from each example, and how to use each lick over different chords. All the licks can be mixed and matched into longer improvisations. Most important, Guitar Lick Factory gives guitarists the tools and inspiration they need to create their own licks.
