form, the European design magazine, is issued in both German and English and belongs to the leading design magazines in Europe. Six times a year, renowned specialist writers report on the latest trends in industrial design, graphic design, and interaction design. Ever since 1957, form has been an authoritative source of information and inspiration to designers, entrepreneurs, lecturers and students alike. The internationally oriented magazine founds its reputation on thoroughly researched articles, lavish photo sequences, noteworthy interviews, a vivid layout and high print quality.
