From a commercial airliner, Delta Force officer Connor Tyler watches the surreal obliteration of the World Trade Center. As far as he's concerned, a war has begun.

Tyler and the Delta Force feel they've let America down--and aren't about to let that happen again. They vow to boldly put Swift Sword into action--an anti-terrorism plan so radical that the Pentagon buried it like a dirty little secret. They'll hit back at America's enemies with a wrath from which there is no sanctuary.
