The Norton Book of Personal Essays collects approximately fifty of the finest personal essays of the twentieth century, selected and introduced by Joseph Epstein, the man often hailed as the "premier essayist of our time." In them, some of our most admired American and British writers express their lively, candid, entertaining, thoughtful, and - above all - varied opinions. Topics range from Tangiers to a lake in Maine, from racial conflict to sky diving, from the expectations we bring to travel to the athletics of the table. Most prominent in each essay is the distinctive style of the essayist; style, as Epstein points out in his introduction, not only is what keeps literature alive but also is a personal way of looking at the world.

有些文章写得真好，尤其喜欢the inheritance of tools, coming back home和the mother tongue.

一人一篇小短文，里面包括了mark twain, bertrand russell, mencken, virginia woolf, eb white, 竟然还有dorothy parker! 都太赞了。属于睡前想说读一篇吧结果一读就10篇过去了……

挺不错的，不过编辑也太懒了，好歹写一下文章分别是哪一年的。如果有一点点介绍就更好了。
