In "his best yet", Edgar-winner Aaron Elkins visits the Italian countryside with ideon Oliver, professor of forensic anthropology. He prefers old bones to new. But this specialty, vital to police forces the world over, has made him known as the Skeleton Detective...

Soaking up the sun on their friend's idyllic island in Lake Maggiore, Gideon and his wife soon learn that the breathtaking view and sumptuous food come at a price. The padrone's only child has been kidnapped. And when nearby construction workers unearth human bones, Gideon agrees to identify them-exposing some extraordinary deceptions at the dark heart of a highborn family...
