'Creating and Using Digital Performance Resources' in the Arts and Humanities Data

Service Guides to Good Practice series is a basic guide to good practice for using electronic information and resources in the performing arts, with lots of pointers to specialized information.

The Arts and Humanities Data Service (AHDS) has produced this series of Guides to Good Practice to provide the arts and humanities research and teaching communities with practical instruction in applying recognized standards and good practice to the creation, preservation and use of digital resources. All Guides identify and explore key issues and provide comprehensive pointers for those who need more specific information. As such they are essential reference material for anyone interested in computer-assisted research and teaching in the arts and humanities.
