A group of brilliant MIT students sets out to take the world's greatest casinos for all they're worth.

A legend at twenty-one, cocky, hotshot mathematical genius Semyon Dukach and a group of similarly talented college friends hit casinos with a vengeance—carrying thousands in currency and armed with Semyon's unique, powerful, and legal (but just barely) system for beating the blackjack tables. But though they made millions in record time—taking their game to all the world's grandest gambling meccas—there was a dark side to winning . . . and it would take exceptional luck as well as skill to make it out unbruised and alive.
