Martha is bored with ordinary pets. What she wants is a great big ugly monster. Unfortunately, the pet shop only sells small ones. But the pet shop man assures her: "Some of them grow huge." Martha soon discovers that he's right--as her monster outgrows a shoebox, devours a drawer, and demolishes a bed, all in one night! Early the next morning, Martha is awakened by a thunderous belch--her monster is massive, and her wardrobe is gone! Colorful illustrations and charming details perfectly complement this amusing story and the little heroine's sassy style.
