Issue 2 of powerHouse Magazine will premier in March 2007 with THAT 70S SHOW, an ode to a city long forgotten, a city on the brink of bankruptcy, rife with anarchy, simmering insanity, and extraordinary originality: New York City in the 70s. To celebrate an era that has long since passed, powerHouse Magazine pays tribute to the people of New York#151;from the pimps and the pushers to the police and the politicians, the musicians and the artists to everyday citizens#151;whose perseverance during those lean years reveals the insurmountable spirit intrinsic to this city. Featuring work by photographers, artists, and writers including Charlie Ahearn, Patti Astor, Alvin Baltrop, Afrika Bambaataa, Roberta Bayley, The Black Tarantula, Stephen Blackwell, BLADE, Jeff Chang, Joe Conzo, Martha Cooper, COPE 2, Bruce Davidson, DAZE, DR.REVOLT, DURO, Brad Elterman, Misha Ervitt, John Fekner, Jill Freedman, Carol Friedman, Larry Fink, Ron Galella, Godlis, Arlene Gottfried, Larry Grobel, Bobby Grossman, Richard Hell, Graeme Jamieson, Lisa Kahane, Seth Kushner, Builder Levy, Christopher Makos, Carlo McCormick, Susan Meiselas, Glenn O'Brien, Janene Outlaw, Joseph Rodríguez, Thomas Roma, Bobby Seale, Jamel Shabazz, SHADOW, Stephen Shames, Helen Stummer, Allen Tannenbaum, James TOP, Maureen Valdes Marsh, Harvey Wang, Nicholas Weist, and Dondi White, as well as photographs from the archives of the New York Daily News, THAT 70S SHOW takes us back to a time of crisis and creativity, anxiety and artistry, madness and majesty#151;when genius burned up the sky like the Bronx on fire.
