As Oklahoma braces itself for the largest storm in more than fifty years, two rival groups of scientists - "storm chasers" - fight to be the first to launch a high-tech, life-saving tracking device inside the ferocious funnel of one of the most destructive forces in the natural world. University scientist Jo Wilder pits her corps of brash, underfunded colleagues against the sleek, state-of-the-art research unit of corporate-sponsored Jonas Miller. It is a fierce contest where each team strives for success - and to return alive.

Like the devastating 300-mile-per-hour monster it brings to life, Twister is both concentrated and powerful, fast-paced and unpredictable, offering us the rare opportunity to see the original script of the block-buster movie.
