Book Description

This irresistible collection of quotes, true stories, poems, lyrics, and trivia celebrates the popular and timeless themes of love and romance. This entertaining book for preteens and teens (as well as romance lovers of all ages) features enlightening and just plain practical quotes from more than 175 girls and women, including Jennifer Love Hewitt, Maya Angelou, Madonna, and Sarah Jessica Parker. Also includes eye-opening quotes from a host of magnificent males, including Martin Luther King, Jr., Brad Pitt, and Justin Timberlake. With sage advice and revelations on everything from crushes to first dates to soulmates, The Girls' Book of Love is the ultimate little guide to dating and relating.

From School Library Journal

Grade 6 Up-This companion to The Girls' Book of Friendship (2001) and The Girls' Book of Wisdom (1999, both Little, Brown) deals with finding true love and keeping it strong. The quotes come from both male and female celebrities and dignitaries, while the stories are by unknown writers. Good, interesting "Fascinating Facts" end each chapter. Readers will enjoy the sage advice and sigh at the bliss recounted as they are guided through all stages of love, from the first stirrings of a crush to a breakup, and they will return to these pages when they are looking for inspiration or comfort. Although nothing new is presented, this well-put-together collection would make a nice pick-me-up.
