

De Chirico and the Mediterranean

De Chirico and the Mediterranean 下载链接1

著者:Jole de Sanna

出版者:Rizzoli International Publications

出版时间:1998-12-15

装帧:Hardcover

isbn:9780847821495

The Greek-born Italian painter Giorgio de Chirico (1888-1978) was a master of metaphysical painting. His fusion of fantastic and dream imagery with object from everyday experience creates a surreal, sometimes disturbing landscape. This fully illustrated catalogue, published on the occasion of an important exhibition in Italy, presents de Chirico's work in relation to the world and myths of classical antiquity.

In 1919 in Rome, de Chirico discovered a neoclassical calling that appears in his subsequent work in his use of perspective, statuary and other objects, and classical characters. This scholarly work discusses de Chirico's neoclassical aesthetic as it contributes to his original metaphysical philosophy.

作者介绍:

目录:

De Chirico and the Mediterranean 下载链接1

标签

村上春树

文学

评论

De Chirico and the Mediterranean 下载链接1

书评

De Chirico and the Mediterranean_下载链接1