Cities represent civilization and human achievement: they are bubbling microcosms of virtues and vices, vanguards of technology and creative pursuits, incubators of traditions and melting-pots of diversity. More than half the world's population now lives in cities, and for travellers they hold an endless fascination.

太美的一本書，千姿百態的兩百個城市，簡直幫我開出了一生的to-do-list。目前去過的最靠前的城市排行第十一，月底刷掉第三，寒假再刷前十中的另外五個。

Cities are individuals. Like a human being, a city is a mass of genes, chosen at random by forces beyond our control, fused together in a secret furnace, acted on by nature and reared through infinite probabilities of nurture before finally growing up and making its own way in the world.
