A world-renowned anthropologist finally gives you the answer to those "why didn't he pick me?" situations: it's what you're not saying that counts. With a very accessible writing style and tip that anyone can use, this is a guide to the world of non-verbal sign! Signals and cues will help you to finally understand and master the courting rituals in almost any setting. Whether it is a co-worker or a blind date, Dr. Givens reveals all the silent message that can be given off, from the very top of your forehead to the littlest of your toes. Learn about: attracting with your eyebrows; reading eye movements; the right stance; the unwritten rules of personal space; the "approach me" fragrance; and much more! Knowing the unspoken vocabulary of "love signals" gives readers the edge they've been looking for when it comes to finding a loving, lasting partner.
