Amazon.com Linda Dano is Felicia Gallant on NBC's Another World soap opera, an Emmy-winning television star, and someone with a keen appreciation for style. She offers sage advice on choosing a style, shopping, hiding your flaws, and bringing out your best. Dano has written a guide to looking and feeling good, with sensible steps that anyone can follow, but few people do. To look in your closet is to feel like a lost cause, but to read Dano's guide is to realize that you can achieve a look that is both pleasing and realistic for you. Book Description Linda Dano's long-running role on NBC's "Another World" has made her a familiar face to millions. And her fashion consulting service--as well as her own exquisite designs--have made her a recognized authority on style. The popularity of this down-to-earth, accessible, fully-illustrated handbook now confirms her role as the style maven for real women everywhere--including those who may not have thirty-inch hips or million-dollar budgets. --This text refers to an out of print or unavailable edition of this title.
