Few sex educators are as well-matched to the task of dispensing safe, honest, affirming sex advice as Ducky Doolittle, a former Times Square stripper, who emerged from behind the peepshow glass to climb to the top ranks of advisors on all matters sexual.

For more than a decade, she has toured the country with her one-woman show, visiting hundreds of cities, where she has answered sex advice queries from virtually thousands of women and men—partnered and singled, straight and gay—of all ages. Ducky's winning humor and electric stage presence, combined with a rich knowledge of human sexuality and anatomy, have allowed complete strangers to open up and reveal their most intimate thoughts.

In Sex With Lights On she shares for the first time the questions most-often asked of her, among them: What's the best oral sex technique? Does every woman have a G-spot—and what are the top tips for locating her own? Can men have multiple orgasms? How does a couple introduce anal sex into their relationship? Why do anti-depressants lower sex drive and how can that be avoided? What's the easiest way heat up a marriage? Ducky not only answers each question with a sex-positive open-mind, she gives readers permissions to laugh and relax and to create the sex lives that best suit their own desires.
