n response to the contested presidential election of 2000 and the attack of September 2001, Berkin (American history, City U. of New York and Baruch College) revisits the values, concerns, and processes that led to the US Constitution. She describes the government they created as led by Congress, with the executive branch playing a secondary role and the judiciary left flexible to be formed by its practice. She includes the texts of the Articles of Confederation and the Constitution.
