Trim can transform a room. With new casing around windows and doors, and some cornice molding to embellish the border between ceiling and walls, any room gains an upgraded identity. Home centers and lumberyards carry a staggering variety of molding. This book tells readers how to put molding to work, creating stylish projects that are easy to personalize, including instructions for creating traditional bead board wainscoting, bull's-eye corner blocks for an elegant Victorian look, and fluted side casing. Step-by-step photos cover every aspect of the projects and information on tools and materials is provided.
