Rocketed into space by his Junior CPA father, who thought his planet was going to explode. It didn't - he traveled for 20 years until landing on the planet Levram (read it backwards) where everyone, has super powers, except him! Befriended by the witless Captain Everything - who can negate all known laws of physics, but forgets how to fly in mid-flight - normalman only wants to escape from this insane world (don't we all)!
