Claiming there's too much to explore and discover in Glacier National Park than can be done in one season, Park Ranger Pat Hagan returns every summer, year after year. While some people suffer from Season Affective Disorder (SAD), Hagan says he suffers from "Seasonal Disorder" (SD), a type of depression that results during the remaining seasons--which are: Almost Winter, Winter, Still Winter, and Construction. From the hilarious to the tragically ludicrous, Hagan's tales of his many years of service in Glacier National Park will have you holding your sides with laughter--and fearing for his sanity at the same time.
