Editorial Reviews

Book Description

The latest, lavish photographic book by the master of the medium. Culminating over 20 years of panoramic work in a single large format book, this encompasses Earth's iconic wild places while exposing some of the lesser-known landscapes of our planet. The photographs span six continents and range from the northern- to the southernmost extremes of the Earth, capturing a range of wonders -- the wildebeest migration of the Serengeti, to polar bears on the stark landscape of Hudson Bay. Mangelsen's images capture both an intimate and far-reaching look into the natural world that has inspired artists and adventurers for centuries.

One of the 100 Most Important People in Photography. -- American Photo, 2005

About the Author

Thomas D. Mangelsen grew up in Alaska and opened up his first gallery in Jackson,

Wyoming, in 1978.

Jane Goodall, DBE, is a renowned primatologist, author and UN Messenger of Peace. She encapsulates her personal friendship with the photographer along with her unique understanding of the importance of wilderness and its animals for the health and well-being of people and cultures around the world.
