Koalas are among the most beloved and popular animals in the world. Koalas: Moving Portraits of Serenity features texts by editor Joanne Ehrich, a Foreword by Deborah Tabart, Executive Director of the Australian Koala Foundation, and an Afterword by Jack Hanna – America's favourite television naturalist and host of the 'Jack Hanna's Animal Adventures' television series. This book is an international project with 315 photographs by 120 photographers from 24 countries.

The book features carefully selected camera sequences that make the animals come alive by suggesting movements, revealing a world rich with surprises. The photographs are arranged within sections that uncover different aspects of this marsupial. Koalas: Moving Portraits of Serenity conveys insights about this phenomenal Australian native with resplendent visuals, deserving a place on the bookshelves of koala and nature lovers alike.
