Nick Waplington has taken photographs in and around Truth or Consequences, a small town situated in New Mexico, for nearly ten years. Typical and unremarkable in many ways, the town's extraordinary name derives from a radio quiz show to which the town and its residents have been inextricably linked ever since the show came to town in 1950. Waplington shows us the town behind the name, the lives of its people and the landscape they live in while at the same time constructing a personal tribute to American photography, paying homage to the great pioneers of the genre like Edward Weston and Walker Evans, Lee Friedlander and Paul Strand.

这是一本问世于千禧年前后的快照集。书名“真理或结果”是位于新墨西哥州的一个典型而平凡的小镇的名字。伦敦摄影师尼克·瓦普林顿在这里拍摄了将近十年，记录这里的人事物景，并以此向二十世纪的美国摄影致敬。还包括一些离开小镇之后的公路旅行记录。
