In December 1999, prior to the forming of a Stockholm Centre for Commercial Law, an international symposium entitled Central Bank Independence was held at the Department of Law at Stockholm University in co-operation with the Swedish Central Bank (The Riksbank) and Queen Mary and Westfield College, London University. The participants were principally political, economic and legal specialists in the field, all with international experience. This led to the topic being examined in detail from many different perspectives. This publication includes contributions by the participants and contains many facts for those readers who wish to study and understand the different consequences of the yielding of control over financial policymaking by the traditional political organizations to a body of experts.
