Containing documents and an interpretive essay, this book is a guide to the emergence of the women's rights movement within the anti-slavery activism of the 1830s. A 60 page introductory essay traces the cause of women's rights from Angelina and Sarah Grimkes' campaign against slavery to the development of a fully fledged women's rights movement in the 1840s and 1850s, and the emergence of race as a divisive issue that finally split the movement in 1869. It includes diary entries, letters, and speeches from Grimkes, Maria Stewart, Lucretia Mott, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Theodora Weld, Frances Harper, Sojourner Truth, and others.
