This networkable and Intranet/Internet compatible CD-ROM is comprised of two tutorials and two case-based simulations. Covering management of adult patients with gastrointestinal and renal dysfunction, the tutorials are an ideal way for users to learn new content. The cases utilize full-color clinical photographs to make the simulations more realistic. Scored tests are found after each activity to assist in evaluating learning, and a randomly-generated post-test can be taken after the user has completed all the activities. Learning objectives as well as the post-test score can be printed.
