Songwriter and lyricist Carl Sigman is the genius behind the standout hits that have defined American popular songwriting and popular music for generations. During his decades-long career, Sigman collaborated with the greatest songwriters of the times, creating unforgettable hits performed by some of the greatest performers of the twentieth century - including Louis Armstrong, Tony Bennett, Nat King Cole, Ella Fitzgerald, Billie Holiday, Dean Martin, Glenn Miller, Linda Ronstadt, Frank Sinatra, Sonny and Cher and Sarah Vaughan. And the popularity of Sigman's hits lives on with recent covers by the Pussycat Dolls, Brian Setzer Orchestra, Michael Buble, Barry Manilow, Rod Stewart, and more. Over 40 songs, including: All Too Soon * Arrivederci, Roma * Crazy She Calls Me * A Day in the Life of a Fool * It's All in the Game * A Marshmallow World * Pennsylvania 6-5000 * and more.
