A Pulitzer Prize winner. Garbage collector Troy Maxson clashes with his son over an athletic scholarship.

作者介绍:

August Wilson (April 27, 1945—October 2, 2005) was a Pulitzer Prize-winning American playwright.

Wilson's literary legacy is a cycle of ten plays—two of which won the Pulitzer Prize for Drama—dubbed "The Pittsburgh Cycle". Each is set in a different decade, depicting the comedy and tragedy of the African-American experience in the 20th century. "This cycle," notes the theater critic Christopher Rawson, "is unprecedented in American theater for its concept, size, and cohesion."
