Learning to Live Again by S.L. Carpenter Michelle has dumped her jerk boyfriend and her dead-end job for a better future. A chance encounter with a hot guy on a train ignites long-buried passions and emotions, engulfing her in sexual escapades that she hopes never end - yet she can't ignore the scars her last relationship left. Should she stay and forget her plans for a new life, or go and leave behind the man who's shown her how good love can be? The Jewel by Sherri King Samantha has just lost her job and is spending yet another Valentine's Day alone. After passing out on her couch, she awakens in a harem in the loveliest place in the world...except it's another world entirely. To make matters worse, it's her birthday and she knows she's not getting any presents. As a matter of fact, she's a present for someone else...an alien king with his own birthday plans. Fantasy Bar by Trista Ann Michaels Kira is half-owner of Fantasy, a hedonistic bar where anything goes and every night is an orgy. When she shoots a prominent politician in self-defence, she disguises herself as a redhead and gets lost in the wild, sexual atmosphere of the bar with a total hunk. Jerrod, the undercover investigator in the politician's death, is discovering just how sick the man was. Following a tip, he heads to Fantasy in search of a blonde, but finds a feisty redhead with who makes his blood boil in passion. He can't shake the feeling she's hiding something, but never dreams that it's murder.
