This multidisciplinary study examines evidence of a great global catastrophe that occurred 11,500 years ago. Abundant evidence points to this event--crustal shifting, tilting of the Earth's axis, mass extinctions, upthrusted mountain ranges, rising and shrinking land masses, and gigantic volcanoes and earthquakes--indicating that a fateful confrontation with a destructive cosmic visitor must have occurred, and calling into question established geological theories about this moment in our not-so-distant past.
