Insects, spiders and related arthropods account for almost three-fourths of all known animal life, and yet the general reader knows very little about them. Insects and Spiders of the World takes readers on a fascinating journey of discovery both across the globe and inside their own backyards. Focusing on selected members of the class Insecta, assorted spiders and scorpions of the class Arachnida, as well as other arthropods, this set offers a glimpse into a strange and marvelous world waiting to be explored.
