A wedding is a day to remember for life. And the words that are spoken in celebration of such a joyous occasion need to be chosen with the greatest of care so that they encapsulate the style of the day and the deeply-felt emotions of the happy couple. John Wynburne regularly joins couples in matrimony and understands the importance of this choice. With Alison Gibbs, he has compiled a wide-ranging selection of poetry and prose, plus a bank of musical ideas, to offer the perfect selection for every couple's happiest day - whatever the style of the occasion or the beliefs of those involved.
