Successful literary agent, Jamal James is tired of by-the-numbers booty calls. He wants something he's never had before, something that goes deep like the no-holds-barred fantasies spun by his star erotica writer, Kat Mason. The sistah's sexy stories, published in every men's magazine, have made him rich...and whetted his appetite for more. Someday, he hopes to meet the mystery woman - his perfect chocolate fantasy - in person and act out every one of her sizzling tales in the flesh. For now, he'll have to content himself with some time at the Night Kitty...Kat can't believe she's in this club dressed to the nines in body-hugging lingerie. She may be the hottest writer on the planet, but deep down, she's as shy and straight-laced as they come. Yeah, and she's also out of material. It's time for her to do some research - hands-on research - in a place where no one knows her, where she can be anybody indulging in a night of complete carnal pleasure. And she's just set her sights on Jamal, the one man to take her there...
