The true, heartwarming story of a courageous terrier that conquered "incurable" cancer. Sparky was diagnosed with lymphoma at age six and given four to six weeks to live without treatment. With chemotherapy, his life might be extended by as much as one year. But his owners (the co-authors), inspired by the dog's indomitable spirit, decided to do all they could to save him. Sparky succeeded beyond all expectations. A special section, "If Your Dog Gets Cancer," is included at the end of the narrative, as well as a list of resources for caretakers of cancer-dogs.
