Discover a place where every animal is safe, loved, and allowed to live out its natural life. It is Best Friends, the no-kill sanctuary in Utah's Angel Canyon -- and this is the inspiring true story of how a few dedicated people have made it happen, and how thousands of furred and feathered creatures have called it home. Best Friends is home to about 1800 animals at any one time, many of whom were found not simply abandoned but abused and/or sick. After tender care, 75% are ultimately adopted; the rest live out their lives on Best Friends' 3000 stunning acres surrounded by loving human and animal pals. This is the story of some of those humans, who in 1980 founded and built, with their own hands, this wonderful place. And it is the story of the animals themselves: dogs and cats, of course, plus horses, burros, goats, pigs, sheep, turtles, bunnies, pigeons and peacocks and parakeets... Often comic, sometimes poignant, always compulsively readable, "Best Friends" is a must-have book for animal lovers everywhere. It will touch your heart and teach all of us the true meaning of "Best Friends."
