Adobe created Photoshop Lightroom expressly for photographers, so twelve top-notch professionals took it for an intense, hands-on test run in the real world: a 10-day photographic adventure in Iceland. Now they are sharing that experience with you. In this PDF, Mikkell Aaland and Derrick Story have collected what they and their colleagues learned first hand when they used Lightroom to process the images they shot in one of the most beautiful, yet challenging photographic locations in the world. You can benefit directly from the pros' experience, as they reveal their best discoveries for processing and sharing images using Adobe's new image processing tool. This version covers Beta 4 which you can download for free from Adobe Labs and try yourself. You can learn more about the Adventure (and see amazing, Lightroom-created web galleries) at "Adobe Lightroom/Photoshop Adventure 2006".

工具書來說都算不錯，至少不過時。而且為了開發lightroom，一批作者齊到冰島旅行，拍照，寫programme再寫成這本書。
