Rosie wonders: What is the moon made of? Cat thinks the moon is a saucer of fresh milk, spilled from the sky into puddles on the ground. Dog thinks it's a pat of sweet, creamy butter. Butterfly thinks it's made of sugar: sticky and sparkling and oh, so sweet. But Gran knows best. Using milk, butter, sugar, and other ingredients, she shows Rosie how to bake moonshaped cookies and captures a magical piece of the moon in her very own kitchen. This classic-in-the-making from Gran's hearth is sure to inspire family baking and sharing. Sugar cookie recipe included.
