This beautifully illustrated book is the perfect way to tell an adopted child the story of how he or she came into the family. Using simple language that emphasizes love and joy, it describes a couple that longs for a child, a girl who is not ready to be a mother, and the process that brings them together and to a happy ending for everyone. The story invites children to ask questions about their own adoption story and gives parents a unique opportunity to tell it. Suitable for all adoption types: domestic or international, open or closed, private or agency-arranged.
