Lenz , Georg Büchner’ s visionary exploration of an 18th century playwright’ s descent into madness, grew in part out of Alsatian pastor Oberlin’ s journal, which is translated here in its entirety for the first time. Lenz is a dispassionate account on the nervous system of a schizophrenic, perhaps the first third-person text ever written from the “inside” of insanity. At his death at the age of 23 in 1837, Georg Büchner also left behind Leonce and Lena , Woyzeck , and Danton’ s Death —psychologically and politically acute plays well ahead of their time. Richard Sieburth’ s translations include Friedrich Holderlin’ s Hymns and Fragments , Walter Benjamin’ s Moscow Diary , Gerard de Nerval’ s Selected Writings and Henri Michaux’ s Emergences/Resurgences . His English edition of the Nerval won the 2000 PEN Book-of-the-Month-Club Translation Prize.
