This book celebrates the American flag by describing what it means to one small child. Using innovative textile artwork, Laurie Lazzaro Knowlton illustrates the poetic text as she explains what the flag's three colours represent, 'sacrifice, loyalty, pride'. As the young heroine pedals her bike under a rippling flag, she declares, 'our people may be of every colour, but we are united by the Red, White, and Blue'. This visual treat will introduce the meaning of our flag to even the youngest patriot.
