- Boys Can Be Angels Too has six speaking parts for older children or youth. Shepherds, the Holy Family, and wise men are also to be played by older children. Angels can range in age from younger to older elementary children.- The Stars of Christmas can use 12 to 15 children of all ages. The story combines narration with traditional Christmas carols found in any hymnbook- The Midnight Miracle has speaking parts for seven older children along with any number of younger children who come to see the Nativity. Non-speaking parts also include the characters who make up the Nativity scene. Easily adapted to any size church, it can involve the whole congregation.- A Very Merry Christmas is for all age children and includes both speaking and non-speaking parts, along with suggestions for using familiar carols to involve the congregation.
