The beautiful Morning Dove is content with her simple quiet life, living with her brother Night Hawk and his mate Running Doe, since the death of her own mate. Other than the strange ole she-wolf that had shown up one day and the mysterious gifts Morning Dove had found left for her by the river, nothing marred the peaceful tranquility of her village. That is until she discovers her brother has accepted courting gifts from Red Wing, a man very much like the mate that had abused her for years. Now she must give up her peaceful existence and strike out on her own to keep from being mated to a man she fears.
