Building things is what Winston does best...Building things is what Winston does best. He's made a car for Ralph and a boat for Alice. But when Winston tries to construct something really BIG he realises that he can't do everything by himself. Then, with help from Ralph (who is best at carrying large bits and pieces) and Alice (who is best at finding small bits and pieces), he discovers that putting things together...together...is what friends do best! An encouraging story about perseverance, sharing and friendship by the author of Dinosaurs After Dark, with individual artwork by Nathan Reed, a young illustrator with a promising future.
