Choosing the right college is a big decision for most teens. Native American teens are no exception, but finding a college that offers a good educational program in their major plus a strong support system for tribal traditions makes that decision even more complex. This volume, written by Native Americans who have gone through the process, will help teens successfully identify colleges that are right for them. After a thorough examination of the issues that should be considered, it presents the different types of colleges available, programs and services to meet the special needs of Native American students, and financial aid options.
