Seedling, Won't You Share?

Rosybud has come to Seedling's house for a play date, but he isn't so sure he wants her to play with his toys. He holds tight to his teddy bear, coloring books, and bright red ball. Soon Seedling finds himself all alone--and keeping everything for himself doesn't seem nearly as much fun as sharing and playing with his friend.

Children and parents alike will delight in this whimsical rhyming story that teaches a gentle lesson about generosity.

Perfect for children ages 0 to 3.
